

has been no sign from the interior of the room, and the fire has been burning for some time. The fire is now under control, and the firemen are working to remove the debris.

Enthusiastic Republicans.
New York, June 21.—Carnegie hall was filled tonight with enthusiastic republicans, the occasion being the ratification of the nomination of Harrison and Blaine. Governor McKinley was the principal speaker. His speech on the campaign issues and the glorious future which he predicted, won the warm approval of the audience. Among those present were prominent republicans from all parts of the country.

Two Officers Removed.
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Col. C. H. Ludlow, engineer, and Captain Heyerman, inspector of the eleventh light-house district, with headquarters in Detroit, have been suspended for alleged insubordination. Captain Heyerman is succeeded temporarily by Captain Woodard of the tenth district, while Colonel Ludlow will be relieved in a day or two by Col. O. M. Poe, now on duty in Detroit.

Opinion of the Message.
TORONTO, Ont., June 21.—An Ottawa special to the Mail says the general opinion of news which comes from Washington of President Harrison's message, recommending to congress retaliation against Canada because of persistent denial of the rights of American citizens of navigation of canal is that the move is simply an election dodge.

Leonard for Governor.
SEBASTIA, Mo., June 21.—The people's party state convention met today, and after electing a permanent organization and the appointment of regular committees, adjourned until tomorrow. Leverett Leonard of Saline county will be nominated for governor.

Denied by Depew.
New York, June 21.—Chauncey M. Depew told a United Press reporter there was not a word of truth that President Ingalls of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway had come to this city to discuss the presidency of the New York Central.

EMMONS BLAINE'S FUNERAL.
A Great Man's Son Buried With Simple Ceremonies.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The funeral services of James G. Blaine, son of ex-Secretary of State James G. Blaine, were held at the McCormick residence at No. 135 North street at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremony was remarkable for its simplicity. Only the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the deceased were present. No one was there from abroad excepting the ex-secretary, his wife, their daughter, Miss Harriet Blaine, and the only surviving son, James G. Blaine, Jr., who arrived from New York yesterday afternoon. The casket lay in state in a front parlor and was as plain and massive as it was rich. The coffin was of black mahogany, with oxidized trimmings. A simple oxidized plate bore the name of the deceased and the date of his birth and death.

The Rev. Simon J. McPherson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and a personal friend of the dead man, officiated. A brief but impressive prayer was first offered and then the clergyman read a few appropriate scriptural passages full of comfort and consolation. Dr. McPherson delivered a short address, in which he spoke in appropriate terms of the deceased, referring feelingly to his many virtues and amiable qualities. The minister paid a touching tribute to the memory of the dead man, which brought forth tears from all present. A hymn was then sung and the simple services were over. The remains were borne to the home waiting in Rush street by the close friends of the deceased and the McCormick family.

The funeral procession proceeded north through Lincoln park to Grace-land cemetery, where the remains were placed in the McCormick family vault. The cortege that followed the hearse to the burial ground was not a long one. The carriages contained the pallbearers, the clergyman, James G. Blaine, Mrs. Blaine, Miss Harriet Blaine, James G. Blaine, Jr., Mrs. Emma Blaine, the widow, with her little son, her father and brother. Mrs. Emmons Blaine was much improved this morning and bears up with brave fortitude under her great grief. The ex-secretary remained indoors the entire day until the funeral, and received none of the callers that desired to see him. None passed the big mansion today without casting a look toward the windows, hoping to catch a glimpse of the distinguished man. Little McCormick Blaine, son of the dead man, was in the yard in the morning, looking on the lawn with his nurse. The Blaine family will remain several days in Chicago.

BAD RAILROAD WRECK.

One Person Killed and Many Seriously Injured.

STILLWATER, Minn., June 21.—The Wisconsin Central and St. Paul & Duluth passenger trains collided at the junction of the two roads six miles from here today.

James E. Stinson, aged 21, of Stillwater was killed. The injured are: Albert Byer, conductor of the Duluth train, internally injured. He will die. Walter Brooks, engineer of the Wisconsin Central train, arm and leg broken.

James Kelly, fireman of the Duluth train, leg broken and internal injuries. J. B. Lapham of Chicago, slightly hurt.

C. F. McElroy, fireman of the Wisconsin Central, injured internally. Isaac Staples of Stillwater, head injured.

John Thompson, trainman, slightly injured.

W. J. Walters, conductor Wisconsin Central, back injured. The Wisconsin Central train was behind time and the Duluth train should have waited for it to pass. The trains met on a curve. Both engines were thoroughly wrecked and the baggage car rolled down the bank.

CROOKED CHRISTIAN

Gets Away With a Buffalo Bank's Funds.

BUFFALO, June 21.—E. S. Dann, secretary and cashier of the National Savings bank of Buffalo since its organization in 1881, is in the custody of officers at the residence of his mother in this city. His accounts were recently examined in the usual way by a state bank examiner and found to be short at least $25,000, and how much more remains for further developments to determine. It is said that Dann's confession is in the hands of bank officers. Dann is a prominent church member and has always enjoyed an enviable reputation in Buffalo business and commercial circles. His trouble has caused a great sensation.

TOLD OF HIS HONOR

President Harrison Officially Notified

OF HIS RECENT NOMINATION

In a Brilliant Speech by McKinley—He Replies in Well Chosen Remarks.

Following are the speeches made in the official proceedings at Washington, notifying President Harrison of his nomination. Governor McKinley spoke as follows:

"PRESIDENT HARRISON—This committee, representing every state and territory in the union, is here to perform the trust committed to them by the national republican convention which convened at Minneapolis on June 19, 1892, of bringing you official notification of your nomination as the republican candidate for president of the United States. We need hardly assure you of the pleasure it gives us to convey this message from the republicans of the country to their chosen leader. Your nomination was but the registering by the convention of the will of the majority of the republicans of the United States and has been received in every quarter with profound satisfaction."

"In 1888 you were nominated, after a somewhat prolonged struggle, upon a platform which declared with clearness the purposes and policies of the party if entrusted with power, and upon that platform you were elected president. You have had the good fortune to witness the execution of most of those purposes and policies during the administration of which you have been the head and in which you have borne a most conspicuous part. It there has been a failure to embody into law any one of these purposes or policies, it has been no fault of yours. Your administration has more than justified your nomination four years ago and the confidence of the people implied by your election."

OF DISTINCTION THE HIGHEST.

"After one of the most careful, successful and brilliant administrations in our history, you have received a re-nomination, furnishing an approval of your work which must bring to you the keenest gratification. To be nominated for the second term upon the merits of his administration is the highest distinction which can come to an American president. The difficult and embarrassing questions which confronted your administration have been met with an ability, with a fidelity to duty and with a lofty patriotism which fill the American hearts with glowing pride. Your domestic policy has been wise, broad and statesmanlike; your foreign policy firm, just and truly American. Those have won the commendation of the thoughtful and conservative and the confidence of your countrymen irrespective of party and will, we believe, insure your triumphant election in November."

"We beg to hand to you the platform of principles unanimously adopted by the convention which places you in nomination. Protection, which shall serve the highest interests of American labor and American development; reciprocity which, while seeking the world's markets for our surplus products, shall not destroy American wages or surrender American markets for products which can be made at home; honest money, which shall rightly measure the labor and exchanges of the people and cheat nobody; honest elections, which are the true foundation of our government; and the principles constitute for the most part the platform; principles to which you have already by word and deed given your earnest approval and on which you stand today the exponent and representative. Other matters treated of in the platform will have your careful consideration."

"I am hidden by my associates, who come from every section of the nation, to assure you of the cordial and hearty support of an harmonious and united republican party. In conclusion we desire to extend to you our personal congratulations and to express our gratification at the rare honor paid you by a re-nomination, with a firm faith that the destinies of this great people will be confided to your care and keeping for another four years."

The address was delivered slowly and in the beginning in a low tone that it was hardly audible, but the governor's voice strengthened as he proceeded. He was warmly applauded at its close.

President Harrison Reply.

The president in accepting the re-nomination said: "Governor McKinley and Gentlemen of the Committee—When four years ago on the anniversary of the declaration of our national independence the republican convention held in Chicago, came to my home in Indianapolis to notify me of my nomination for the presidency, my sense of gratitude, great as it was, was forced into the background by an overwhelming sense of the responsibility of leadership in a civil contest that involved so much to my country and to my fellow citizens. I could not hope that much would be found when the record of a quiet life had been brought under the bright light of public criticism to the eyes of my party followers or upon which an assurance of adequacy of the civil affairs might be rested. No one so much as I realized that the strength of the campaign must be found in republican principles, and my hope was that nothing in life or word of mine might weaken the appeal of our American policies to the American heart. That appeal did not fail. A republican president and vice president and a republican congress were chosen."

Submitted to the People.

"The record has been made and we are now to submit it to the judgment of a patriotic people. Of my own relation to the great transactions in legislation and administration, which must be the basis of this judgment, it does not become me to speak. I gratefully accept, sir, the assurance given by the republican state convention and by the national convention through you, that no charge of inadequacy or delinquency to principle has been lodged against the administration. The faithful and highly successful work done by the able heads of the executive departments, and by our representatives abroad, I desire most cordially to acknowledge and commend. The work of the fifty-first congress, in which you, sir, bore so conspicuous and useful a part, will strongly and most beneficially influence the national prosperity for generations to come."

"The general results of three years of republican control have, I believe, been highly beneficial to all classes of our people. In Buffalo the market for farm products has been retained and enlarged by the establishment of great manufacturing industries while new markets abroad of large and increasing value, long obstructed closed to us, have been opened on favored terms to our meats and breadstuffs, by the removal of unjust discriminating restrictions and by numerous reciprocal trade agreements under act of 3 of the McKinley bill. These acts of administration and legislation can now fortunately be judged by their fruits. In 1890 it was a conflict of predictions, now our adversaries must face trade statistics and prices current.

His Profound Thanks.
"But it is not appropriate that I should at this time discuss these public questions. I hope before long to be able by letter to convey to you a more formal acceptance of the nomination which the national republican convention has tendered me and to give briefly my reasons for adhering to the declaration of principles adopted by the convention and which you have so admirably summarized. Will you accept, sir, for yourself and your associates upon the committee, and for the whole body of the great convention whose delegates you are, my profound thanks for this great honor, and will you, sir, allow me to express my most sincere appreciation of the gracious and cordial terms in which you have conveyed this message."

The president's speech was also received with enthusiasm, heartily applauded following every point. At its close the members of the committee rose and congratulated the president. He shook hands cordially with each member of the committee and when all had been received he invited them to luncheon. The party proceeded to the state dining-room, the president leading with Governor McKinley and other invited guests to a considerable number followed.

This evening the committee will be the guests of Col. Elliott F. Shepard at a dinner to be given by him in their honor at 6 o'clock at the Manhattan Athletic club. No other invitation was also accepted from the Republican club of the city of New York to be present at a mass meeting to be held at Carnegie Music hall this evening. At this meeting addresses will be made by Governor McKinley of Ohio, Representative J. C. Burrows of Michigan and Daniel of Pennsylvania.

REID AT HIS FARM

When Officially Told of His High Honor.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Whitelaw Reid was called upon today at Ophir Farm by the committee that was appointed by the republican national convention to formally notify him of his nomination to the vice presidency. Senator DuBois, chairman of the committee, acted as spokesman.

In reply to the address Mr. Reid said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—Your visit to my home and this formal statement deepen on my mind the impression which the known act of the convention had already produced. The occasion is too great for the expression of merely personal feelings. The party which has guided this country on its path of unparalleled prosperity with four years interval since 1860 gives official notice, through its duly authorized representatives of forty-four independent states and five territories, of its choice for the second office within the gift of 65,000,000 freemen, who cover the continent and are soon also to possess once more the seas. A profound sense of responsibility and a most ardent desire to discharge the trust reposed in me by the satisfaction now of those you represent, and if successful, for the best interests of the country afterwards, are the overmastering emotions of the hour."

"Not having sought the great honor you confer, and having justly thought I am the more prompt in saying that, as a citizen and a republican I shall not shrink from the duty you have imposed. There will be a more convenient opportunity for such expression of political views as you may desire. I am appropriate to the times and to the actual issues. But we have already carefully considered the statement of our party principles set forth by your convention. I may say, at once, that I accept and adopt them in their entirety. I accept the principles and the power, the way which the country has attained in its phenomenal growth and prosperity under which the plain people have ruled; labor has been freed, honored and better rewarded than elsewhere; the largest example of equal before the law, the world has yet seen has been promoted. To reject these principles and this party would be to indict the glorious history of the nation for almost the past third of a century."

Sympathy For Mr. Blaine.
"You find a natural leader in the eminent public servant whose brilliant results of whose wise and faithful administration furnish such inspiration for the canvass. I had expected to find associated with him my distinguished friend who now adorns the office of vice-president. As the delegation of my party to the republican convention in Indianapolis to notify me of my nomination for the presidency, my sense of gratitude, great as it was, was forced into the background by an overwhelming sense of the responsibility of leadership in a civil contest that involved so much to my country and to my fellow citizens. I could not hope that much would be found when the record of a quiet life had been brought under the bright light of public criticism to the eyes of my party followers or upon which an assurance of adequacy of the civil affairs might be rested. No one so much as I realized that the strength of the campaign must be found in republican principles, and my hope was that nothing in life or word of mine might weaken the appeal of our American policies to the American heart. That appeal did not fail. A republican president and vice president and a republican congress were chosen."

Submitted to the People.

"The record has been made and we are now to submit it to the judgment of a patriotic people. Of my own relation to the great transactions in legislation and administration, which must be the basis of this judgment, it does not become me to speak. I gratefully accept, sir, the assurance given by the republican state convention and by the national convention through you, that no charge of inadequacy or delinquency to principle has been lodged against the administration. The faithful and highly successful work done by the able heads of the executive departments, and by our representatives abroad, I desire most cordially to acknowledge and commend. The work of the fifty-first congress, in which you, sir, bore so conspicuous and useful a part, will strongly and most beneficially influence the national prosperity for generations to come."

"The general results of three years of republican control have, I believe, been highly beneficial to all classes of our people. In Buffalo the market for farm products has been retained and enlarged by the establishment of great

WAS ONLY A FAKE

Sensational Story Published in the Detroit News.

O'DONNELL NOT A DARK HORSE

The Scream is Pronounced a Tissue of Falsities—Evening Fakir's Latest Effort at Lying Nailed.

DETROIT, June 21.—The Evening News has been in the faking business ever since its birth. As it grows in years its abnormal appetite for sensational untruths grows too. Nothing is too sacred for the Evening Fakir. To preserve its health it has to be delivered of a fake every so often. Its time was up yesterday. A "meeting of prominent republicans" was promptly located at the Russell house and its proceedings fully and minutely described under scare head. It was stated that the "fight between Mayor Pingree and Mr. Rich had become so bitter that prominent and leading republicans, who had heretofore been identified with party leadership, had stepped into the breach, and selected a dark horse, with which to soothe the ruffled feelings of both sides."

The graduating exercises of the Akeley institute occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in St. John's church, Ionia. Music was rendered by members of the school. Bishop Gillespie delivered an address of welcome and presented the diplomas. The commencement address was delivered by the Rev. E. A. MacDuff of Flint.

Mrs. W. E. Purdy of Kalamazoo, while all worked up about something Monday morning, jumped into the river with the intention of ending her life occupying a preferred position in her mind. She was flung out of the water, considerably cooled and looking like a hen that had been undergoing anti-"setting" treatment.

The Marshall Statesman, an old and influential republican journal, has been purchased by T. G. Stevenson of Ionia. Mr. Stevenson is a well known newspaper man, being one of the founders of the Ionia Sentinel. W. H. Arthur, a printer who knows news, will be the Statesman's new city editor.

A water snake nearly five feet long was killed in a hammock at the residence of S. D. Towers, near Kalamazoo. As Mr. Towers lives only two miles from the river, and is a Christian and total abstainer, it is a source of wonder what so big a snake was doing there.

David Schumiller is in jail at Muskegon for attempted criminal assault. He was released from Ionia prison a few days ago, where he served a sentence for a similar offense. He is apparently a fit subject for an indefinite sentence.

John Mitchell, who took indecent liberties with a little Jackson boy the day he was released from prison, after serving a long sentence for a nasty crime, has been returned to the penitentiary for twenty years.

Peach orchards at Fennville are afflicted with the "curl leaf," as the result of so much wet weather, and much of the fruit is dropping, but enough will be left on the trees to make a large crop.

The male employees of the Pontiac asylum have been notified that the fact of their acceptance of nomination for a political office will be considered equivalent to a resignation by the trustees.

The Bononia Lumber company is engaged in rafting down Lake Michigan from Stony Creek, Oceana county, about 4,000,000 feet of logs, the last of the company's cut at that point.

Christopher Streiff, a Detroit tailor, drank whisky until his wife lost his use entirely. Mrs. Streiff has sued the saloon keeper who sold her man the paralyzing stuff for $10,000.

Frank Smith of Ludington, who accidentally shot George Weaver last fall, is dead. He overworked himself in a successful endeavor to pay his victim's doctor bills.

A woman in a night gown hurrying for a doctor for her croup-stricken baby scared a half-dozen superstitious adult residents of Clifford out of their wits.

N. D. Vercaux, a veteran of Rome, had an eye paralyzed a year ago. The other day, while eating dinner, the sight was suddenly restored.

A cow bell announces the coming of Bay City's hurry-up wagon. It didn't cost so much as a gong, and besides it's much more pastoral.

While drilling a well at Saginaw last week a vein of coal seven feet thick was struck. It is pronounced to be of good quality.

The corner stone of Saginaw's new city hall will be laid Friday. At least 10,000 people are expected to be in the procession.

Norman McKay, foreman of a Detroit shingle mill, was caught in the belt and so seriously injured that he may die.

Warden Davis of the Jackson pen has been offered $7500 for the hair and whiskers of Prince Michael.

The Ionia public schools have been closed in order to head off a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

The newest postoffice in Branch county has been called Burrows in honor of Kalamazoo's great orator.

Cedar Springs sports will celebrate the Fourth with an old-time fox hunt and banquet in the evening. The celebration will be held at the hotel.

"Lunker," the successor to Prince Michael, was held up in Detroit and relieved of his long hair.

At Bay City a man was fined $35 for catching a half dozen little trout with a net.

A Dundee farmer turned up a pair of skeletons while plowing. In Detroit bakers who sell light weight bread are fined.

Cleared away all the troubles and ailments that trouble women's life a burden to her. Her blood, cured, and her health restored. Dr. J. C. Burrows' Prescription. Periodical, pain, backache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, all "female complaints" are cured by this improved medicine, which is the blood, dispels acids and poisons, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

will require the plant in order to manufacture hardware lumber, and will be in readiness for operation early next year. Half a hundred hands will be given employment.

$6,000 Fine at Fremont.
FREMONT, June 21.—The furniture store of William Boone and a vacant store owned by K. Mulder were burned yesterday morning. The contents of the latter building was occupied by a dentist as an office and sleeping apartments. Boone's loss is about $4,500; Mulder's about $2,000.

Around the State.
Frank M. Fogg, who recently returned from the Keeley institute at Northville, where his appetite for strong drink was completely removed, gave a very interesting talk at the First Presbyterian church last evening to a large audience. He was the subject of the praise of the institution, and urged upon christian people the desirability of aiding it to match the drunkard from an ignominious grave.

—Lansing Journal.
Swede Pete, one of the best known gamblers in the upper peninsula, has become insane and is now confined in jail at Marquette. When found by his friends he was running wild through the woods, discussing "systems" with the trees. Too close application to the study of a "system" for beating the "bank" put his sense machinery out of gear.

The graduating exercises of the Akeley institute occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in St. John's church, Ionia. Music was rendered by members of the school. Bishop Gillespie delivered an address of welcome and presented the diplomas. The commencement address was delivered by the Rev. E. A. MacDuff of Flint.

Mrs. W. E. Purdy of Kalamazoo, while all worked up about something Monday morning, jumped into the river with the intention of ending her life occupying a preferred position in her mind. She was flung out of the water, considerably cooled and looking like a hen that had been undergoing anti-"setting" treatment.

The Marshall Statesman, an old and influential republican journal, has been purchased by T. G. Stevenson of Ionia. Mr. Stevenson is a well known newspaper man, being one of the founders of the Ionia Sentinel. W. H. Arthur, a printer who knows news, will be the Statesman's new city editor.

A water snake nearly five feet long was killed in a hammock at the residence of S. D. Towers, near Kalamazoo. As Mr. Towers lives only two miles from the river, and is a Christian and total abstainer, it is a source of wonder what so big a snake was doing there.

David Schumiller is in jail at Muskegon for attempted criminal assault. He was released from Ionia prison a few days ago, where he served a sentence for a similar offense. He is apparently a fit subject for an indefinite sentence.

John Mitchell, who took indecent liberties with a little Jackson boy the day he was released from prison, after serving a long sentence for a nasty crime, has been returned to the penitentiary for twenty years.

Peach orchards at Fennville are afflicted with the "curl leaf," as the result of so much wet weather, and much of the fruit is dropping, but enough will be left on the trees to make a large crop.

The male employees of the Pontiac asylum have been notified that the fact of their acceptance of nomination for a political office will be considered equivalent to a resignation by the trustees.

The Bononia Lumber company is engaged in rafting down Lake Michigan from Stony Creek, Oceana county, about 4,000,000 feet of logs, the last of the company's cut at that point.

Christopher Streiff, a Detroit tailor, drank whisky until his wife lost his use entirely. Mrs. Streiff has sued the saloon keeper who sold her man the paralyzing stuff for $10,000.

Frank Smith of Ludington, who accidentally shot George Weaver last fall, is dead. He overworked himself in a successful endeavor to pay his victim's doctor bills.

A woman in a night gown hurrying for a doctor for her croup-stricken baby scared a half-dozen superstitious adult residents of Clifford out of their wits.

N. D. Vercaux, a veteran of Rome, had an eye paralyzed a year ago. The other day, while eating dinner, the sight was suddenly restored.

A cow bell announces the coming of Bay City's hurry-up wagon. It didn't cost so much as a gong, and besides it's much more pastoral.

While drilling a well at Saginaw last week a vein of coal seven feet thick was struck. It is pronounced to be of good quality.

The corner stone of Saginaw's new city hall will be laid Friday. At least 10,000 people are expected to be in the procession.

Norman McKay, foreman of a Detroit shingle mill, was caught in the belt and so seriously injured that he may die.

Warden Davis of the Jackson pen has been offered $7500 for the hair and whiskers of Prince Michael.

The Ionia public schools have been closed in order to head off a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

The newest postoffice in Branch county has been called Burrows in honor of Kalamazoo's great orator.

Cedar Springs sports will celebrate the Fourth with an old-time fox hunt and banquet in the evening. The celebration will be held at the hotel.

"Lunker," the successor to Prince Michael, was held up in Detroit and relieved of his long hair.

At Bay City a man was fined $35 for catching a half dozen little trout with a net.

A Dundee farmer turned up a pair of skeletons while plowing. In Detroit bakers who sell light weight bread are fined.

Cleared away all the troubles and ailments that trouble women's life a burden to her. Her blood, cured, and her health restored. Dr. J. C. Burrows' Prescription. Periodical, pain, backache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, all "female complaints" are cured by this improved medicine, which is the blood, dispels acids and poisons, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

It's powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no opium or other dangerous drugs, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all "female complaints" and all "female ailments."

It's powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no opium or other dangerous drugs, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all "female complaints" and all "female ailments."

It's powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no opium or other dangerous drugs, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all "female complaints" and all "female ailments."

It's powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no opium or other dangerous drugs, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all "female complaints" and all "female ailments."

It's powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the entire system. Contains no opium or other dangerous drugs, and is a safe and reliable remedy for all "female complaints" and all "female ailments."

CARTER'S

THE LIVER PILLS.

CURE SICK HEAD.

Headache and relieve all the troubles (not to be taken on the stomach, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the side, etc. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing even if they only cured.

Arche they would be almost useless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who have tried them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sickening to do without them.

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

ACHE

PHYSICIANS.

J. J. RICE, M.D.

SPECIALIST.

Chronic, Blood and Nervous Diseases

OFFICE HOURS: 1